Checklist

Do you want to know if your shop is a shoplifter's dream? We put together a checklist with a couple of questions regarding shoplifting. Answer those for yourself and get to know if your shop is at risk:

The shop has self-checkouts

Studies have shown that the use of self-checkouts in a shop causes a doubling in shoplifting.

The entrance and exit of your shop are one and the same door

When you have one entrance/exit you lose sight of who paid for the groceries and who did not.

The passage is not always closed at the unmanned checkouts

When you do not close the passage at unmanned checkouts customers can leave without paying.

Not enough staff to keep an eye on customers on the shop floor

It is easy for customers to steal when they are not being watched by staff.

There is no security guard at the exit of the shop

A lot of people are scared by the idea of getting caught by the security guard, so when they see one, they are more likely to not steal.

The customer is not required to carry a shopping basket or shopping trolley while shopping

Without a shopping basket or trolley the stolen products can more easily be hidden in bags or under jackets.

There is no known shoplifting policy in the shop, or at least not visible to customers

If the consequences of stealing are not made clear, they are more likely to steal.

There is no CCTV system installed in your shop

When there are no cameras in the shop, oversight of the shop is more difficult and theft attempts cannot be monitored.
